

Pink Colored Window

Cover a window with pink colored cellophane. Invite your child to look out of the window and see how the color changes they view. Then cut out different color cellophane shapes and add them to the window. Point out the new shape and invite your child to see how the corners of cellophane overlap to make even more colors.

